四、阅读理解

A Busy but Happy School Day

Li Ming is a student at a vocational high school in Fujian. His day begins with English at 8:00 a.m. He likes English because it helps him talk with people from different places.

After English, he has practical training in the training room. The teacher asks the students to finish a small project in groups. Li Ming thinks the class is useful because he can learn by doing.

In the afternoon, the school holds a reading competition in Room 205. Li Ming goes there with his friends after lunch. The activity lasts about one hour, and it makes their school life more interesting.

Li Ming says vocational school life is not only about studying. Students can learn basic subjects, practice skills and join different clubs. He believes these experiences will prepare him for the future.
